

Council averts lawsuit, oks 17th St. Reservoir

The Upland City Council has finally accepted the 17th Street Reservoir as complete, averting a threatened lawsuit.

When the reservoir was first completed, city inspectors discovered cracks in the roof which they feared would weaken the structure and possibly allow foreign material into the water supply.

A series of special hearings and consultations indicated that both specifications and construction techniques may have been at fault, but Water Director Harry Rohrbach said a definite cause for the cracking could not be determined.

Some experts said the concrete was poured with too much water, but others said cracking is a normal action for concrete.

Experts also indicated that some concrete forms may have been removed too soon, but other sections of the reservoir show the same kind of cracking.

Rohrbach said the consultants testified that the cracking would not affect the safety of the reservoir which has been declared structurally sound.

Consultants advised the city to have the crack sealed with a polyurethane coating. Rohrbach said the coating is expected to last at least four years and perhaps longer.

Contractor J. Putnam Henck bore the cost of applying the sealing coat, and the city will keep $3,000 of the contract cost to perform another sealing job when necessary.

City attorney Donald Maroney had indicated several months ago that a court suit might be necessary to force either the contractor or the engineering firm to pay for the necessary sealing.

City Council to hold seven public hearings

Upland City Council 7 p.m. Monday will consider two amendments to zoning ordinances, a zone change and several conditional-use permits. Public hearings include:

— A zone change from single-family residential to an open land zone for 16 acres north of 11th Street between Benson and Silverwood avenues.

— A conditional-use permit for six-bed child group home at 351 N. Laurel Ave., in a multiple-family residential zone.

— A conditional-use permit for a five-story senior citizen housing development on 2.5 acres on the north side of San Bernardino Road east of Upland Memorial Park in a proposed commercial-professional zone.

— A conditional-use permit for a 215-space mobile home park on 33.3 acres east of Campus Avenue from Foothill Boulevard to 14th Street in a mobile home park zone.

— A conditional-use permit for a full-service restaurant and a movie theater complex in conjunction with a proposed community shopping center on 19 acres northwest of Mountain Avenue and Seventh Street in a highway-commercial zone.

Adds children's books to 'balance' stereotypes

Library tries to adapt to cultural change

By Lynne Locke

In a time of changing ideas about women and minority groups, Upland Public Library's children's section attempts to furnish books for all cultures and all ages through junior high school level.

Keeping up with cultural changes can be difficult for libraries which do not have enough money to replace old books with all new ones.

Most libraries are dealing with the situation by adding books that "balance" the stereotypes presented in older books, according to Upland Library staff member Billie Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson and staff member Dorothy Farrington recently attended a workshop on "evaluating stereotypes in books for children," sponsored by the Inland Library System Children's Services Committee.

Children's libraries try to provide books of all viewpoints including some controversial books — allowing parents to decide which books are appropriate for their children, and noted that workshop speakers stressed the importance of "positive images" for children to relate to.

Featured speaker for the day was Riverside author Patricia Beatty who discusses the need for children's books which are free from stereotyped roles for boys and girls.

Other speakers discussed the need for Native American, Black American, and Mexican-American children to have book characters which support them and provide healthy models as the children grow up.

Mrs. Thompson said the speakers were in agreement that books are needed which treat minorities and women in a dignified, serious manner.

But that can be done with humor as shown by Mrs. Beatty's humorous yet respected heroine of "Hail Columbia," a story of an early suffragist in Oregon state.

Mrs. Beatty began by writing stories about "lively, interesting" girls, who were based on herself as a child, and later became interested in the lives of women fighting for the vote and also in the lives of the pioneer women.

Her next book, "Weeds for the Wilderness," features an Oregon woman who goes into business against the wishes of her husband.

Mrs. Beatty herself has experienced some of the criticism of a woman who goes to work. Even though she did her writing at home, she was criticized for neglecting her family.

In a time of changing ideas, she noted the importance of parents, librarians, teachers and others choosing books with care.

"Children's books are mental baggage for the rest of their lives," Mrs. Beatty commented noting that children always carry the images of themselves that they learn as they read children's books.

Picture books may be particularly important because children do much of their learning during the preschool years.

"Bad" language is often a controversial issue in library books, Riverside librarian Helen Riley told workshop participants.

Many people are concerned when children's books use the language of the barrio or urban areas, but the feeling of the book is more important than the words themselves, she said.

Bad language should not be used for the purpose of shocking the reader, Mrs. Riley said and noted that the language must fit the character and the situation of the book.

But more important than the street language is the picture of hope and caring that the book may present to children who need something positive to look toward in their own lives.

The question of dialects is also controversial particularly among black parents. Some are worried their children will not learn proper English if they read dialect in books, but others want their children to hear dialect as part of their past.

Mrs. Riley commented dialect is part of the Negro history and should be read with pride rather than in a way that makes fun of or looks down on the dialect.

The workshop speakers agreed that stereotyped images can cripple

County freezes building permits for home tracts

By PETER WONG

The supervisors' action will stop permits for new home construction in the county's fastest growing area — the unincorporated communities of Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda — but only until May 17.

By then, the supervisors and council members in the three West End cities — Ontario, Upland and Montclair — hope an advisory committee of local governments and the building industry can come up with an acceptable regional growth plan.

That plan is expected to tell local governments how much additional sewage flow they can allow from new development, including homes, businesses and industry.

The additional sewage will probably be diverted from an already overloaded regional treatment plant in south Ontario into a line normally used for non-reclaimable industrial waste, and later, into an expanded treatment plant.

Unlike the actions in Ontario, Upland and Montclair earlier this week, the supervisors' vote was an outright halt to building permits, with some exceptions.

The cities' approach was to require a guarantee from the Chino Basin Municipal Water District that it could treat sewage from new subdivisions before the cities will issue building permits — and since the district isn't providing such guarantees, the condition amounts to a building moratorium.

In line with three West End cities, county supervisors May 4 called a temporary halt to the issuance of most building permits, pending adoption of a regional growth policy and a resolution of the area's sewage treatment crisis.

The temporary halt to building permits for homes in the unincorporated communities carried by the necessary four votes, although Supervisor Dennis L. Hansberger was skeptical as to its usefulness.

"I fail to be persuaded that a building permit moratorium for a two-week period is going to make one iota of difference in adopting an allocation plan (for sewage treatment capacity)," Hansberger said.

Because one supervisor (Robert L. Hammock of San Bernardino) was absent Wednesday, Hansberger's vote was crucial to passage of the emergency measure.

Although other supervisors indicated their distaste for the latest moratorium, they said it was necessary to speed up completion of the regional growth plan and control sewage flows.

Without that plan, they argued, further intervention by a state agency — which could halt most construction by banning new sewer connections — would be likely.

"Unless we make some effort to show our good faith and intent ... I'm afraid that worse things can happen than what is being proposed here today," Supervisors' Chairman Robert O. Townsend of Chino said.

"I think a couple more weeks' time would be minimal in comparison with the years of a moratorium which would result from being red-tagged indefinitely," Supervisor James L. Mayfield of Apple Valley said.

Supervisor Joseph Kamansky of Upland said, "I'm not going to be willing to go along forever on this," but called for the temporary halt in most residential building permits.

As proposed by Kamansky and adopted by the board, the moratorium does not apply to building permits for commercial, industrial and public service projects, homes on lots of one acre or larger, and owner-occupied homes.

The supervisors and representatives from the three West End cities fear further intervention by the state's Santa Ana Regional Water Quality Control Board.

That board ordered the Chino Basin Municipal Water District, operator of the Ontario plant, to stop discharging treated wastewater which doesn't comply with environmental standards. But it didn't ban new sewer connections.

Speaking on behalf of the three West End cities, Montclair Mayor Harold M. Hayes said, "The alternative is that if we don't act ... the state will move in."

Hayes, Upland Mayor George M. Gibson and Ontario City Manager Roger Hughbanks said their cities assured the state board April 22 that local governments could control growth and restrict sewage flows without state intervention.

Yet if any local government, particularly the county, allowed home construction to continue unchecked before a regional growth policy could be completed, whatever remaining sewage treatment capacity there is could be used up — even with diversion of sewage into the industrial waste line, they argued.

"Then we'll be back in front of the regional board," Hughbanks said.

Building industry representatives argued against any temporary halt in the county's issuance of building permits, saying it really wasn't necessary.

"We do not subscribe to the theory of the extreme emergency of their (cities') position," Jim Smirl, president of the Baldy View chapter of the Building Industry Association of California, said.

Although the supervisors didn't debate the issue extensively Wednesday, one key point which apparently hasn't been resolved is whether the sewage flows from homes on lots in tentative subdivisions should be part of a regional growth plan.

Some two-thirds of the estimated 10,000 lots already approved by local governments, but for which building permits for home construction haven't been issued, are in the unincorporated communities.

Many builders, supported by the Cucamonga County Water District, say those projects ought to receive priority for sewer service.

"I think that to put a stranglehold on that (growth) in any manner would be a real crime for the area," Lloyd Michael, the district's general manager, said.

However, a proposed regional growth plan would allow the tri-counties just 19 per cent of whatever sewage treatment capacity may become available — compared to 49 per cent for Ontario, 20 per cent for Upland and 12 per cent for Montclair.

CIVIC CENTER EXPANSION — West End officials turn over the first shovelfuls of dirt to begin construction on expansion of the Montclair Civic Center. On hand for the ceremony were (from left) Tom McClure and Ernie Rowley, Montclair city councilmen; Robert O. Townsend, county supervisor; Carl J. Freeman, vice president of L. D. King Engineering Co., Inc., of Ontario; and Representative Jim Lloyd, (D-35).

The project will add 10,000 square feet of space to the city offices, including a new council chamber. Also included in the project are two tennis courts, two handball courts and saunas for the park next door. The civic center was designed with expansion in mind, according to Councilman Rowley. This expansion should satisfy city space needs until the year 2000.

Would preserve right-of-way

Freeway bill gains support

SACRAMENTO — Backers of the Foothill Freeway extension through Upland and Alta Loma did not get everything they wanted Tuesday from an Assembly committee, but they received enough to please them.

While the Assembly Transportation Committee took no action on a bill mandating initial steps be taken by 1984 toward construction of the freeway extension, Chairman Walter Ingalls, D - Riverside, pledged his support for another bill to preserve the 28.3-mile freeway right-of-way from near San Dimas to San Bernardino.

Ingalls said he believed most members of the committee would support the bill (AB 469) and scheduled consideration of the legislation for next Tuesday.

Both bills were introduced earlier this year by Assemblyman Bill Lancaster, R - Covina.

Five officials from an area delegation joined Lancaster and local representatives Assemblyman

Bill McVittie, D - 65th Dist., and Sen. Ruben Ayala, D - 32nd Dist., in a 35-minute presentation supporting the freeway extension.

A report completed late last month by the two local state Department of Transportation (Caltrans) districts with planning responsibilities for the proposed extension estimated the total cost of the project at $119.3 million.

Some $10.3 million has already been spent by the state to acquire right-of-way property.

Freeway proponents cited traffic congestion, rapid growth along the proposed corridor (Route 30), long-standing agreements with the state, added smog from stop-and-go driving and possible inverse condemnation suits over withholding the right-of-way from development as reasons why construction should proceed.

Those opposing the extension — none of whom addressed the committee Tuesday — have questioned the need for a freeway, claiming that widening streets and other improvements along Route 30 could accommodate the traffic.

Local opponents have also said a freeway would encourage greater use of gasoline through long-distance commuting.

Supporters of the freeway fear Caltrans headquarters will recommend that the Foothill extension be deleted from the state's master highway plan.

Caltrans is studying the report from its two local districts and an accompanying, undisclosed recommendation on whether to retain the freeway route.

Ed Connelly, administrative assistant to Lancaster, said a pending bill before the legislature could lead the California Highway Commission to delay consideration of Caltrans' final recommendation, which was tentatively projected for commissioners' review during their regular session June 16 and 17.

Blood banks seek donors

The blood bank of San Bernardino and Riverside Counties helps supply 32 area hospitals with some 40,000 units of blood each year.

Those interested in donating blood may go to the West End YMCA, 215 W. C St., Ontario, from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

Persons crediting blood to the account of someone specific are asked to have that person's name and hospital on hand when they donate the blood.

Voter registration drive underway in May

Secretary of State March Fong Eu announced recently William Clinton, San Bernardino County registrar of voters, has designated the month of May as voter registration "Outreach" in his county.

Clinton has mailed voter registration cards to all 25 county water districts and to the 8 community services districts for distribution to electors within their districts.

He has provided registration forms to each recruiting office for the military services, as well as to the passport division of the county clerk's office, and has mailed forms to 321 mobile home park owners and managers for distribution to unregistered citizens residing in mobile homes.

Further, Clinton has hired 16 persons to canvass homes — precinct-by-precinct, door-to-door — to encourage non-registered citizens to register and vote.

The first precincts canvassed were those identified as areas with low registration and high percentages of bilingual citizens. The registrar and his staff are also asking apartment managers to keep a supply of voter registration cards for new residents who are eligible to register.

"As a side benefit of this registration drive, county elections officials are actively recruiting bilingual registrants to serve as precinct workers on election day," Clinton said. "As we come across bilingual citizens who are registered voters, we are asking them if they would be willing to serve as election day officials. If so, we add them to our list for future recruitment purposes."

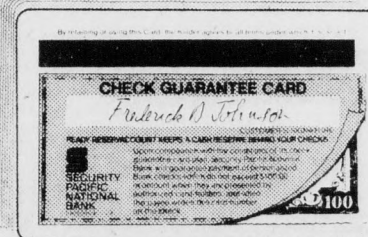

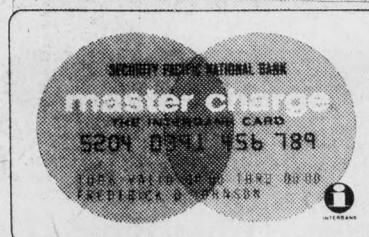

Clinton also announced that his office is planning to initiate a 24-hour telephone answering service to respond to interested citizen's registration inquiries. In addition, he hopes to involve the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts in a registration drive after school adjourns for the summer. These scouts would help identify unregistered citizens and assist them in becoming registered as a part of their civic awards programs.

A similar registration drive is being planned again for early 1978.

TEMPORARY LAKE — Ken Wright, manger of the Monte Vista Water District, inspects water pumped into "Lake Montclair" in the city's nature park. Wright said the water came from a new well drilled for the Monte Vista County Water District. Wright explained that in the process of drilling a new well some water normally goes to waste "but through the cooperation of the Chino Basin Water Conservation District and the city of Montclair we were able to pump the water into the nature park to form a small lake." Wright said some of the water will seep back into the ground and the rest will evaporate in a few weeks. But, he said, "maybe someday we can make the lake a permanent thing."

How to discourage burglars

By John Shoemaker
Community Relations Coordinator
City of Upland

QUESTION: Do you have any suggestions as how to discourage burglars and prowlers? A.M.P.

ANSWER: Burglary is a problem, but to avoid it happening to you, something can be done. Whenever you leave your residence to spend an evening at the movies, or take off for a weekend of fun in the sun, housebreakers can and will move in if they're certain you've left. Burglars spend their daylight hours canvassing neighborhoods, looking for uncut lawns and overstuffed mailboxes. They spend their spare evening hours looking for darkened houses — or lights that are left on too long. You can help your police department reduce burglaries by always reporting suspicious persons and questionable or dangerous actions and using the following guide when leaving your home.

- Cancel all daily deliveries.
- Leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer, so that your lights turn on at dusk, turn off again at bedtime to create a "lived-in" look while you're away.
- Discontinue the newspaper (or arrange to have it forwarded).
- Notify your police department and a neighbor as to date of your departure and return.
- Leave shades or blinds in normal position — not completely closed.
- Close and lock all windows and doors — including the garage.
- Arrange to have your lawn cut.
- Arrange with a neighbor or post office to hold all mail.
- Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks (with a dead lock mechanism) on all exterior doors.
- Rent a safety deposit box for storage of all valuables.

QUESTION: I recently read in your column where the month of May had been declared "Bicycle Safety Month" and that there would be safety programs at grade schools for students. Any bicycle rules for people who are not in grade school? T.A.

ANSWER: Here are some safety rules for all bicyclists.

- Keep your bicycle in good mechanical condition (tires, chain, brakes, etc.).
- Obey all traffic rules and signs — always give proper hand signals.
- Walk your bike across busy intersections.
- Always ride with the traffic — as close as possible to the right side of the road.
- Be sure the roadway is clear before entering.
- Always ride single file and watch for opening car doors.
- Most bicycles are built to carry one person — YOU, and you alone.
- If you must ride your bike at night be sure your headlight and rear reflector are in good working order.
- Select the safest route to your destination and use it.
- Avoid busy streets and intersections.
- Yield right of way to pedestrians.
- Register your bicycle with a local law enforcement agency or proper authority.
- Always keep your bicycle securely locked when you are not with your bicycle.

QUESTION: Can you tell our civic class the duties of the community services officer? M.S.

ANSWER: Upland's community services officer is William Alcantar, who very capably performs a variety of routine tasks in the police department.

Under immediate supervision he checks city streets and investigates reports of abandoned vehicles; marks suspected abandonments to ascertain period of non-movement; tows vehicles to storage, completes forms on stored vehicles, and notifies appropriate agencies; releases vehicles after payment of fees or arranges for vehicles to be junked; performs the duties of a police dispatcher on a relief basis; acts as school crossing guard and assists in the direction of activities at the police firing range; issues dog and bicycle licenses.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION — An artist's rendering shows the $1.6 million glass, brick and stucco Chaffey College vocational education building for which Hill, Danielson and Associates of Newport Beach recently completed plans. Slated for construction in June, it will be the first building seen when approaching the campus from the south.

Senior employment funds allocated

The Senior Community Service Project (SCSP) announced recently that an additional $50,000 has been allocated for senior employment in San Bernardino County. The funds are made available through Title IX of the Older Americans' Act, and administered through the National Council on Aging (NCOA).

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Senior Community Service Project, 602 S. Tippecanoe, Bldg. No. 3, San Bernardino, or call 383-3673.

Pope Shenovda III

Pope Shenouda III, spiritual leader of seven million Coptic Christians in Egypt and America, will visit Southern California May 13-18. After stops at the two Coptic Orthodox churches in Los Angeles, he will come to Claremont Tuesday at the invitation of his friend of several years, Professor James M. Robinson of Claremont Graduate School. The pope will lecture on "Ancient and Modern Coptic Christianity" — 8 p.m. in the Mudd Auditorium of the School of Theology at Claremont. The lecture is free and open to the public. Shenouda is Pope of Alexandria and Patriarch of the See of St. Mark. The Coptic Orthodox Church he heads traces its history back to St. Mar, the first Coptic pope, in 60 A.D. Shenouda is the 117th Coptic Pope. There are 16 churches and about 50,000 Coptic Christians in the United States and Canada. Shenouda is making pastoral visits to all 16 churches during a 40-day trip. It is Shenouda's first trip to America and he is the first Coptic pope in history to make such a trip. Professor Robinson is director of the Institute for Antiquity and Christianity, Claremont Graduate School, a research center and the sponsor of the lecture. He consulted with Pope Shenouda while directing research on the Nag Hammadi Codices, a cache of ancient religious writings found in Egypt 32 years ago.

Adventists seek funds for disaster relief

Seventh-day Adventist churches around the world Saturday will try to collect $1 million for disaster and famine relief.

According to G. Ralph Thompson, vice president of the Adventist general conference in Washington, D.C., people should give again this year because "disasters and famine take no holiday."

"Through our Disaster and Famine Relief Outreach and Seventh-day Adventist World Services (SAWS) we are able to alleviate suffering of thousands each year. We believe as sincere followers of Christ this is a legitimate part of the church's activities," he said.

"We realize that no place on earth is exempt from calamity. The United States had its worst winter in over 100 years. Speaking at a recent SAWS meeting in Portland, Oregon, a Red Cross official warned us to be prepared for the worst flood in U.S. history."

Thompson said the worst drought in many years has hit the West Coast, adding "Since it appears this will have far reaching effect on the country's economy, March 26 was declared a national day of fasting and prayer."

Thompson cited some of the major disasters to which SAWS responded in the past year.

At the house - building program in Guatemala, where an entire town was rebuilt at a cost of $500,000, SAWS was on the scene within three days of the quake with tents, bedding, bandages, medicine and food preparation for better than 5,000 people at a cost of more than $115,000.

When floods deluged Brazil, SAWS was there with medicine from warehouses 2,000 miles away. More than 22,000 people we fed and clothed and 60 homes were rebuilt. During Lebanon's civil war, shipments of food, bedding and clothing worth thousands of dollars helped relieve suffering.

Thompson also cited the agreement with the Republic of Chad to conduct a four-year agriculture training program with $207,000 from SAWS.

When the Indian state of Bihar was hit with heavy rains, displacing 70,000 and leaving 50,000 subject to disease, SAWS was asked to rebuild a village from the ground up and undertook the challenge, as well as supporting 102 medical teams that treated 31,000 and inoculated 200,000.

Coming closer to home, SAWS was there with $50,000 in relief materials and $20,000 for food and medicine when Hurricane Liza struck lower California and Mexico. A home building program was also conducted in Mexico.

Victims of the Teton disaster in Idaho received more than $6,000 worth of bedding plus volunteer clean-up. More recent contact has been made with victims and help given as needed.

Jews to commemorate the Feast of Shavuot

By Lili Eylon

On Mount Sinai, a mountain in the stark Sinai desert in Israel, the Ten Commandments were proclaimed to the children of Israel at this time of year 33 centuries ago.

"Then Moses brought the people out of the camp to meet God. Mount Sinai was wrapped in smoke, and the whole mountain quaked greatly. As the sound of the trumpet grew louder and louder, Moses spoke, and God answered him in thunder."

On this imposing mountain, a short time after fleeing their Egyptian taskmasters, the children of Israel, only recently enslaved, were welded into a free people.

Today, Jews everywhere, particularly in Israel, commemorate the covenant with God on the Feast of Shavuot (literally, "Weeks"), known in English as "Pentecost" from the Greek word for "fifty." This year, Shavuot, feted 50 days after the commencement of Passover, begins at sundown May 22.

The splendor-filled ceremony described in the Book of Exodus marking the sealing of the Covenant took place 3,300 years ago. Ever since then, "Thou shalt not kill," "Thou shalt not steal," "Thou shalt not bear false witness" have formed the basis of lawful societies everywhere.

The Covenant included more than two stone tablets. In return for God's promise to remain their eternal God and to bring them to a land flowing with milk and honey, the Jews accepted the complete Torah (Hebrew for "Teaching"), a set of ethical laws to govern their society.

Among these laws are the freeing of slaves in the seventh year, prohibitions against bribery and corruption, against exacting interest on loans to the poor or accepting as collateral a debtor's only garment.

The Torah sets forth rules for community support of widows and orphans, for fairness to people of other nations, for restitution for intentional and unintentional injuries, and for harm done to another person's crops or farm animals.

One of the most revolutionary laws accepted by the Jews was that of setting aside one day in seven as a day of rest for everyone, including servants. On the Sabbath even the farm animals enjoyed a complete day of rest.

Like many other Jewish holidays, Shavuot, or Pentecost, marks a change in the natural seasons, coming at the time of the first harvest of grains and fruit.

Diamond Bar church changes its name

At its quarterly business meeting in April, the congregation of Canyon Community Church of Diamond Bar, unanimously voted to change its name to "Evangelical Free Church of Diamond Bar."

"Since its inception 10 years ago this month, the church has been affiliated with the Evangelical Free Church of America (headquarters in Minneapolis, Minnesota), said a church spokesperson. "The congregation feel that this name change would more precisely reflect its doctrinal stand and its form of government."

The term "evangelical" designates the church's belief in the inerrancy of the Bible as the complete, final, and Holy Spirit inspired rule for faith and practice.

The second word, "free" in the name refers to the type of church government exercised within the fellowship. "Each congregation holds title to its property, and also is the final authority, under Christ, in all matters concerning the church," the spokesperson noted.

The Evangelical Free Church of Diamond Bar holds classes for all ages 9:45 a.m. Sundays and worship service 11 a.m. Sunday at 3151 Diamond Bar Blvd. Nursery care is provided for children to 4 years old. Mid-week home Bible studies are held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Everyone is welcome to attend.

For more information call Pastor Scott Owsley, (714) 595-9914 or (714) 598-7253.

Health Tips

Muscular dystrophy

EDITOR'S NOTE: Health Tips is a column of the California Medical Education and Research Foundation, prepared and edited by physician members of the California Medical Association. It is reprinted by this newspaper as a public service.

Muscular dystrophy is a term that covers a group of disorders in which there is progressive muscular deterioration.

It is estimated that about 250,000 - 300,000 persons in this country suffer from one form or another of muscular dystrophy. About two-thirds of the victims are children between 3 and 18 years old.

These disorders are usually genetically determined, but the nature of the specific defects is unknown. It is hoped that when the defects have been identified, it will be possible to treat the diseases — perhaps by replacing missing substances in much the same way that insulin injections are used to treat diabetes. Until that research goal is achieved very little can be done to stem the tragic deterioration that occurs among victims of muscular dystrophy.

The most common forms of muscular dystrophy are:

— Duchenne's Dystrophy. This is the most common and severe type of muscular dystrophy and is usually first noticed in children between the ages of 2 and 6 years. It is usually transmitted to males by unaffected mothers. Parents may first suspect that the child is afflicted when he develops a waddling gait and has difficulty rising from the floor and climbing stairs. Laboratory studies and muscle biopsy can confirm the suspected diagnosis.

— Facio - Scapulo - Humeral. This can be transmitted by either parent and affects males and females equally appearing in early adolescence or in the 20s. Its most recognizable symptoms are loss of facial expression and difficulty in raising the arms over the head. This is the least threatening form of muscular dystrophy because it progresses slowly and rarely causes an early death although the patient may have considerable disability.

— Limb - Girdle. This usually is not transmitted to the child unless both parents are carriers of the defective genes, although parents themselves are without symptoms. It can start anytime from the first to the third decade of life and occurs equally in males and females. The muscles of the pelvis and the shoulder are involved, and the rate of deterioration varies — sometimes being quite slow and sometimes rapid. The amount of disability also varies. In most cases patients are not threatened with an early death.

— Myotonic Dystrophy. This form of the disease may be transmitted by either parent and affects males and females equally. It may appear as early as puberty, and it commonly does not show up until young adulthood. Among the early signs of the disease are stiffness in the limbs, especially after exposure to cold; inability to relax the grip after shaking hands; a tendency to trip and fall forward; and loss of facial expression. The disability becomes severe within a 15 - 20 year period after onset, and patients rarely live out a normal life span.

Although a cure for muscular dystrophy is not yet available, there are a number of things a doctor can do to help the patient. Since the victims have a reduced ability to combat infection, their deaths are often related to respiratory infection. Respiratory exercises and the use of antibiotics have extended the lives of many afflicted children.

Surgery and orthopedic devices are available to prevent or reduce deformity in some patients. Exercises that stretch tendons can help. Affected persons should be encouraged to maintain maximum activity.

Considerable help is provided patients and their families by the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America which works in close collaboration with the patient's physician. Your doctor can put you in touch with a local chapter of an MDA representative if he or she feels the services of this association will help ease your family's burden.

June 11-12 in Riverside

Modifieds to race

Modified stock cars, which have captured the fancy of many of California's short track auto racing fans the last two seasons, will find a new showcase the weekend of June 11-12, on the road course at Riverside International Raceway.

The modified stock cars of a smaller car category of Ascot, Saugus, 605, Orange Show, Cajon and Craig Road Speedway fame will inaugurate a $13,000 race called the Black Gold 200 on Saturday, June 11, as one of the companion features to the NAPA Riverside 400.

Racing on the same 2.62-mile

(4.22-kilometer), eight-turn course as the Winston Cup Grand National stock car drivers in the NAPA Riverside 400 and the West Coast stars who will contest Black Gold's California 150 for NASCAR sportsman stock cars will be a newly emerging class of compact stock cars with its own tier of track champions and crowd favorites.

Foremost is Rick Becker of Highland, the 1976 Ascot Park champion, who will compete in a new Camaro being built for the new season with Riverside's challenging left- and right-turn road course in mind.

Other entries are expected from such local favorites as Don Noel, the Saugus Speedway champ; and Jim Sanderson, the Craig (Las Vegas) Road Speedway champion.

Other drivers who have indicated to Raceway President Les Richter that they expect to enter are Winston West Grand National star Sonny Easley, Jimmy Inso, Chuck Becker Jr., Mark Stahl, Dan Clark and Sig Nelson.

The cars are the stars as well. Very few stock cars in the U.S. can match the wild, way-out appearance of Ed Ash's Mustang, said to be built for more than $25,000 in his Azusa shop. The list of eligible machines includes Gremlins, Monzas, Cougars, Mustang IIs, Mavericks, Aspens and Monzas.

Despite the fact that the drivers race mostly in "open competition" events at tracks throughout the Southwest, a new set of rules standardizing the loose "class" will be in effect for the first time at Riverside.

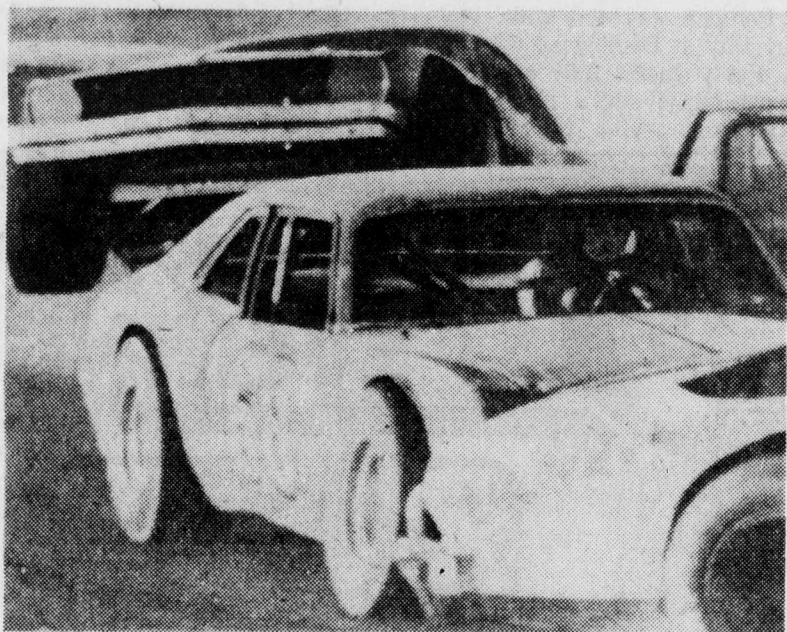

Rules call for American production cars, with wheelbase of 107 to 110 inches and production engines of unlimited piston displacement. Body modifications allowed are extensive, so long as they do not interfere with MASCAR's stringent safety regulations.

Wedging the Black Gold 200 into the already tight practice, qualifying and racing schedule for the four days beginning Thursday, June 9, will create a veritable circus of speed, Richter predicted.

To give the drivers as much time on the track as possible, European-style sports car qualifying will be employed for both of the Black Gold-sponsored races.

That is, a portion of the field for each race will be given practice sessions, and each lap run by each car on the track will be timed—the fastest lap being recorded as that driver's time trial.

The Black Gold 200 will be contested at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, June 11, over a 200-kilometer (48-lap, 125.76-mile) distance.

BLACK GOLD 200 — Sonny Easley of Van Nuys (68) had another driver use his rear deck as a launching pad during a modified stock car race last year at Riverside International Raceway. Easley is one of the stars who will be competing in the inaugural Black Gold 200 in June at RIR. The modifieds, long the fancy of Southland short track fans, will be showcased in the race.

Pool your resources to get best economy in home pool

It can really pay these days to "pool" your resources, advises the National Swimming Pool Institute.

More than four million American families have discovered that buying and maintaining a home swimming pool makes sound economic sense. Many of them have spent as little as several hundred dollars to acquire a pool. Almost all of them have saved substantially by avoiding making arduous trips to public pools, the lake or the seaside.

Small above-ground pools, a local NSPI member says, cost only a few hundred dollars. Larger above-ground models, costing perhaps several thousand dollars, compare in price to small in-ground models, the most elaborate of which will "still offer opportunities for saving on outings and entertaining," he says.

An "average-size" in-ground pool is about 17 x 35 ft. and may cost as much to buy as a medium-size car. But "operating" costs could be compared to those of a sub-compact car, NSPI declares.

"It's impossible to put a dollar value on the endless hours of enjoyment you'll get as a pool owner," says NSPI President Dave

"The recently-announced fuel price increases accentuated savings for pool owners," declares Nelson. "Maintenance costs of $15-$20 monthly compare very favorably with what is being spent on even the smallest car on the road—and nothing can compare with the convenience of having a swimming, picnicking and all-around recreation spot within steps of your backyard."

Water shortage

Tips on rationing

With the possibility of water rationing this summer, some rudimentary water-conserving measures from experts are:

— Take showers instead of baths and turn water off while soaping up. Showering uses less water than bathing.

— Place a rock or two in the toilet tank. It won't harm the flushing action of the toilet; it will take up space so that not as much water is needed for the apparatus to function properly.

— Don't waste water in routine house cleaning. Instead, use a spray cleaner. There's no need to rinse with water when you spray clean.

— When washing clothes, make sure there is a full load of laundry before using the washer. If the washing machine has a load-size setting, be sure it is turned to the appropriate water-saving setting for the amount of laundry.

— Wash dishes by hand instead of using dishwashers. When washing dishes by hand, fill two small dish basins—one for washing and soaping dishes and one for rinsing them off. Don't leave water running in the sink.

Four sports for exercise in outdoors 'gymnasium'

Exercise can be fun when the great outdoors is the gymnasium. Substituting for routine calisthenics, swimming, tennis and cycling as just four of the sports which provide exciting, challenging and enjoyable paths to improved figures and health. According to Redbook's Be Beautiful, a biannual beauty magazine, each of these sports offers individual rewards.

As a body shaper, swimming has no equal. The breast stroke is ideal for firming the breasts, and the scissor kick trims hips and thighs. Every stroke in swimming constantly stretches the waist muscles. Here's an estimate of how many calories a 115-pound woman burns up when swimming, depending on the stroke she uses and how fast she swims: backstroke, 220 to 445 calories per hour; sidestroke, about 390 calories per hour; crawl, 225 to 498 calories per hour; butterfly, about 547 calories per hour.

Played vigorously, tennis will improve co-ordination and strengthen arm, back and leg muscles, while burning 325 to 455 calories per hour. Back and waist muscles are stretched in the serves as well as with forehand and backhand shots, and those lateral movements benefit the thighs and buttocks.

One of the easiest and most appealing sports activities, bicycling is a great way to melt pounds off hips and thighs.

'Mandrake'

Jazz Ensemble cuts album

Chaffey College's Jazz Ensemble I was at ABC Studios in Hollywood for a recording session that added up to 32 hours. The result is "Mandrake," a 24-minute stereo album.

"Mandrake" is music to do whatever is fun by. It's also the fruition of the disciplined toil that makes creativity seem effortless.

"Working with ABC staffers was a tremendous educational experience for our young Chaffey musicians," music director Jack Mason said. To borrow from another source, they learned something of "the agony and the ecstasy" of art in any form.

All of the compositions are original in the recording. Mason's "Swang That Thang" as well as "Mandrake" is there. The rest are Gordon Goodwin's "T.V. Music for Jazz Band" and "So Far From Tears," Glenn Garrett's "Early Bird" and "That Nutty Grind," and Charles Argersinger's "The Spiritual Battle of Rufus B. Hayes."

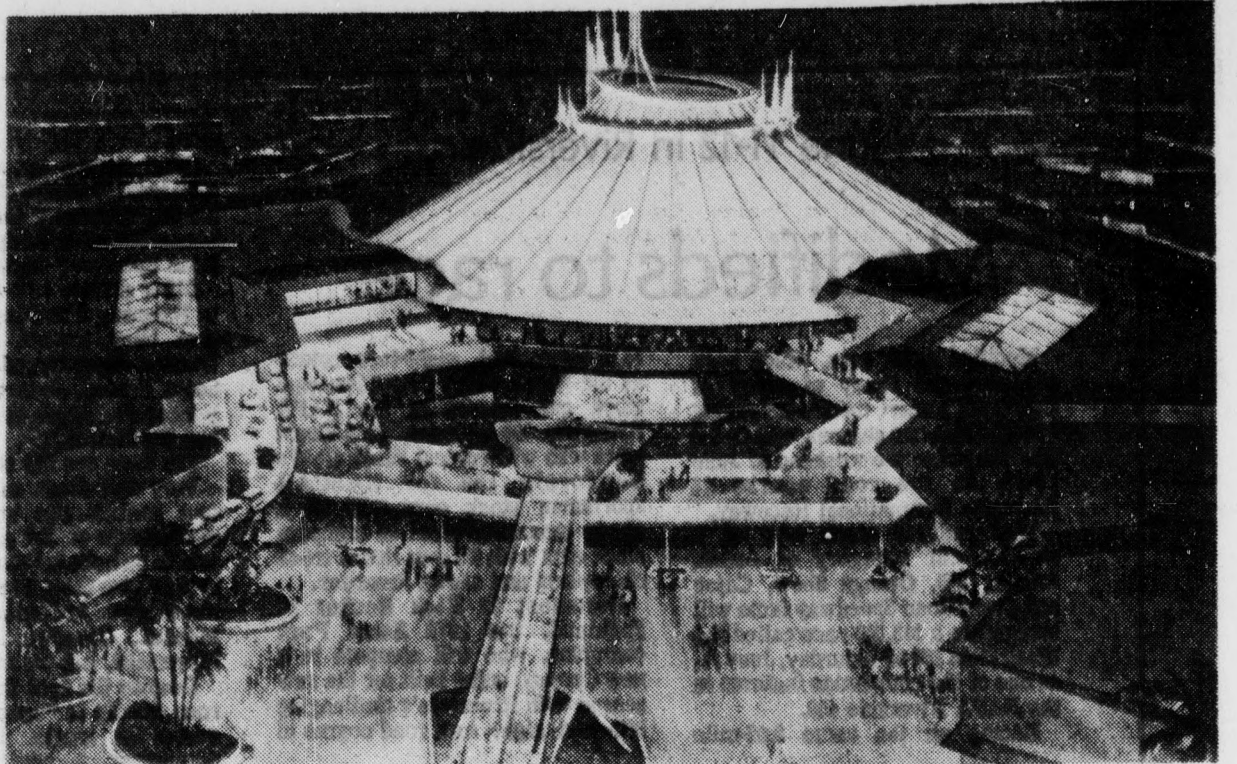

Musicians featured in the album include:

Four playing trumpets, Mark

Goodwin and Kevin Mason, both of LaVerne; Tony Pearsall, Fontana, and Jeff Smith, Cucamonga. Three on saxophones are Wayne Anderson, Chino; Sandy Megs, Yucaipa, and Rod Kokoli, Palm Springs. Playing the trombone, bass and piano respectively are Ontarians Steve Horne, Bob Kensinger and Sydney Lehman, the only girl aboard.

Eight more round out the ensemble. Other saxophonists are Albert Alva, San Bernardino, and Lee Holquin, Ontario. Additional trombonists are the brothers Greg and Kris Gleeson, Ontario, along with Ross Lehman, Upland, and Steve Lewis, Riverside. On the drums are Scott Magallenes, Ontario, and Harold Nelms, Chino. Ginger Eaton and Skip Pahl of the Rex W. Wignall Museum-Gallery here did the cover for the album.

"Mandrake" is available in the Chaffey College Bookstore. Proceeds will be used to help fund scholarships and concert tours. The album is for persons with a passion for the only native U.S. art form.

JAYCEES PARTY — Pomona Jaycees will sponsor a Pomona Valley Day at Disneyland 9 a.m. — 9 p.m. May 30. Party guests may be among the first to board Disneyland's new "Space Mountain" attraction, which takes "astronauts" on a journey through outer space. Tickets may be purchased through the Pomona Chamber of Commerce, at any Hamilton's Drug Store or any branch office of Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Comedy opens

FONTANA — "The Lion in Winter," the comedy about King Henry II of England, that was a Broadway stage success in 1966 and the basis of a film hit in 1968, has been scheduled as the next attraction at the Fontana Mummies Community Playhouse, where it will be presented for four consecutive weekends beginning Friday, through Saturday, June 4.

Reservations may be made by phoning the Fontana Chamber of Commerce at 822-4433, or the theater at 823-7062, 829-9755. The theater is located at 16286 Foothill Blvd., corner of Oleander Avenue in Fontana. Curtain for all performances is 8:30 p.m. Reservations are requested. Opening night audience guests are invited to a champagne reception.

PEZBAND — A new group on ABC records, Pezband brightened up the halls of the Starwood last Thursday. Members include Michael Gorman, base; Mimi Betinis, lead vocals and guitar; Mic Rain, drums and vocals; and Tommy Gauvenda, acoustic and electric guitar. Their debut album is called "Pezband."

Pop music review

Pezband: smooth, quiet pop

By Mike Del Rey
Pop Music Critic
Last Thursday evening ABC and Passport Records threw a party upstairs at the Starwood for their debut act from Chicago, the Pezband.

Having no connection with those little candies "Pez," according to Michael Gorman, bass and vocals, the Pezband demonstrated a very smooth quiet style of pop music.

They stand and perform just as the Beatles did in the early 60s. Lead singer Mimi Betinis even sounds like Paul McCartney, a lot like Paul McCartney.

Their music would have more effect on the audience if they turned down the music and brought out the singing more.

Yet their music was a change from the yelling and screaming that has loomed the halls of the Starwood in the past.

The Pezband is also made up of Mic Rain, drums and vocals, and Tommy Gauvenda, acoustic and electric guitars.

Their music is a more high, up-dated, sophisticated style of pop music, just enough above the kiddie level to puzzle the listener on just how far they can go.

They do sound sometimes like the Beatles, however you get the feeling that they're just doing their own thing and have no intentions of following the Beatles style of playing.

One song stuck out as their possible breakthrough in the single's charts, "Let's Dance." It's a tune that is very bouncy, exciting and easy to relate to, that is, if you like dancing.

Headliners announced for Soul Search '77

Headliners for the three concerts which comprise Soul Search '77 were announced by cosponsors of the annual talent contest, Radio Station KGFJ and the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company.

Booster heart

A "booster" heart — an implanted auxiliary pump — is being studied which can ease the workload of the patient's heart until it is able to resume its normal function, states the American Heart Association.

Featured on successive Saturdays at the concerts at the Shrine Auditorium will be Ohio Players (Saturday, May 28, 7:30 p.m.), Rufus, featuring Chaka Kahn (Saturday, June 4, 7:30 p.m.), and KC and The Sunshine Band (Saturday, June 11, 7:30 p.m.).

In addition to the headline acts, 14 groups or individual performers, selected from more than 300 contestants who will audition earlier in May, will compete for $2,100 in cash prizes and a paid appearance at New York's Newport Jazz Festival, also sponsored by the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company.

Tickets are $3 for reserved seating. They are available at all Ticketron and Mutual agencies and all Dolphin of Hollywood stores.

Pink Floyd — in jeopardy

By Mike Del Rey
Pop Music Critic

It was cold, wet and in general the weather was miserable. Yet to no one's surprise Pink Floyd walked on stage as planned for the start of the 1977 concert season at Anaheim Stadium last Friday.

Having the evening to themselves, the Floyd show appeared to be centered around their latest album, "Animals," their third album to break the tough commercial wall of the United States.

The show or concert seemed to be plotted around alienation, loneliness and madness.

With a gigantic circular screen situated behind the stage Floyd was able to achieve these themes by running segments of a man floating through time or space in animation form.

Starting with "Sheep" then proceeding to "Pigs on the Wing" then their incredible tune "Dogs," Pink Floyd displayed a very laid back sound that reminded me of the troubles they had in the late 60s trying to gain American acceptance.

Floyd, whose problems lasted until 1973 with the release of their "Dark Side Of The Moon" LP, demonstrated their live

Cooper in Anaheim

Dan Spellens, executive director of Fun Productions, announced that Alice Cooper will participate in the first ball festivities at the Angel — Yankees game at Anaheim Stadium Sunday. The game will begin at 1 p.m.

Alice Cooper, who will be appearing at Anaheim Stadium June 19 with special guests Kinks, The Tubes, Nazareth and Sha Na Na, will be standing on the pitching mound and will be joined by Flo and Eddie, performance is like their earlier career — in jeopardy.

Said to have developed one of the most sophisticated and complex live sound systems, Floyd ran the rotten luck of leaving it at home.

They seemed too laid back. Their music, where I was sitting at least, could barely be heard or understood. A more precise and sensitive sound system seemed to be in order.

Their special effects included a reenactment of Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. Enormous balloons flew high above the stadium. One was an enormous man, maybe 100 to 200 feet long and about 400 feet above the stage.

Then there were two pigs, balloon-type pigs. One floated high above the audience then returned to the backstage area where a second balloon went up and then ... caught fire ... and vanished. (It was obvious that that little piggie should have gone to the market and not to the Pink Floyd show).

There was no doubt about it. Bad weather mixed with an easy laid-back vocals by David Gilmour just about froze the audience.

Pink Floyd's show belonged inside, probably batting and catching, respectively, accompanied by executive producer David Forest, who will be honorary umpire for this event.

Think of SAFETY...

again due to the weather. For an outside concert they seemed to be out of control. Their album success speaks for itself but what speaks for Friday evening?

"Dogs," one of the more likeable cuts from their sensational Animals LP, for the most part was the best thing that made it over the speakers Friday. It was, for the type of evening the audience was stuck with, weatherwise, a very appropriate song.

However that's not to say the concert went to the dogs.

Want Ads can bale you out of your cash shortage!

Hay, there! You with the dollar signs in your eyes -- we can guess what you're thinking. You are thinking of those discarded items gathering dust around your house or garage and how much money they can bring you.

Of course you're right. Those no-longer-needed but still serviceable articles are as good as money in the bank. You simply dial our Classified Advertising department and offer them in the Articles For Sale columns. You will get sure-fire results from eager buyers and what you tuck away in your billfold sure ain't hay.

People who rummage around in their storage areas come up with all kinds of salable items, such as:

Furniture, bicycles, old jewelry, carpenter tools, typewriters, luggage, toy trains, books, tennis equipment, sleds, skis, skates, sewing machines, radios, record players, TVs, pool table, artist supplies, nursery items, repairable appliances, hedge clippers, pottery.

To say nothing of:

Paintings, ping pong equipment, golf clubs, glassware, carpets, cradles, clocks, musical instruments, hassocks, cooking utensils, perambulators, binoculars, badminton sets, archery sets, adding machines, and camera equipment.

When you have pocketed cash from your selling spree, you may wish to do some shopping. The best place to start is in that same Classified section. There you will find bargains in an unbelievable variety of merchandise.

The Want Ad pages are the world's greatest automotive and real estate markets. You'll find fine used cars in all sizes and models, offered at prices to suit your budget. And the right home or apartment to fill your family needs is as easy to find as opening up the section to the Real Estate listings.

Classified is equally famous for its ability to get jobs and job hunters together through the Help Wanted ads. It's the ready reference source for all kinds of special services, such as carpenters, plumbers, electricians, landscapers, cement workers, roofers, painters and decorators. You'll find them in the Business Service directory at prices that can save you a bundle.

Buying or selling, Classified pays dividends. For your selling message, give us a call. One of our Ad-Visors will help you word your ad for maximum results.

Aid for crime victims

By State Assemblyman Terry Goggin

Each year in California there are 180,000 victims of violent crimes.

We rarely remember these persons who may be permanently disabled or facing tremendous hospital costs, but increasing numbers of California legislators believe it is time for the state to demonstrate as intense a concern for the forgotten victims of violent crimes as it does for those accused of crimes.

The idea of aiding victims of violent crimes is not new. The state established a fund in 1967 to compensate needy victims. In 1967-77, the state Control Board processed more than 6,000 applications by victims, or their families, and in 1975-77, more than $6 million in claims were paid.

Existing law provides state assistance up to $23,500 to victims of crimes occurring since July 1, 1974. That figure includes amounts up to $10,000 for lost wages and medical expenses, up to $3,000 for rehabilitation costs, and up to $500 for attorney fees.

State Senator Alan Robbins (D-20) has introduced a bill to allow needy persons who were victims of crimes before July 1, 1974 (and consequently could only receive the previous maximum of $5,000) to be eligible for more assistance. With this bill, SB 415, the logical question is asked: Why should we penalize some victims, just because the crime happened to take place before an arbitrary date in 1974?

State Senator Jerry Smith (D-12) seeks to increase the amount of restitution available. He proposes doubling the $10,000 ceilings on payments for medical expenses and wage or support losses. He also feels criminals should be required to pay part of the financial burden, and suggests a fine of at least $10 but not more than $10,000 should be imposed. Last year alone there were 4,000 to 7,000 felony convictions for which a $10 fine could have been imposed.

Assemblyman Mike Gage (D-8) wants the administration of a fine to be a condition of parole if a defendant is able to pay. If the court would vigorously pursue this, Gage believes more money will be available for the state fund, and some of the financial burden will shift from the victim and onto the perpetrators.

Another Gage bill would establish assistance centers to provide advice and help for victims and witnesses. The legislation also is intended to improve the attitudes of victims and witnesses toward the criminal justice system and to sensitize the law enforcement agencies to the needs of victims and witnesses.

Assemblyman Art Torres (D-56) wants dependents of victims killed as a result of grossly negligent manslaughter, such as automobile, to be compensated.

Assemblyman Art Agnos (D-16) takes the step beyond, reminding us that some criminals would still be free or more people would be seriously injured if it weren't for the "citizen heroes." These good samaritans, through individual acts of heroism, foil a crime or apprehend a suspect. Agnos proposes a plan to provide cash rewards for these people: a maximum $2,000 reward for life-risking acts and a $1,000 reward for heroism where life is not endangered.

No one can hope to fully compensate the permanently disabled victim or the family which loses a mother or father, but the legislature also refuses to allow these victims to remain forgotten any longer.

Goggin, a Democrat, represents the 66th District, which includes Alta Loma and Cucamonga.

Committee oks parole measure

The Assembly Criminal Justice Committee has passed a resolution which recommends the denial of parole for any individual whose death sentences have been reduced to life imprisonment as a result of the 1972 and 1976 Supreme Court decision holding the death penalty statutes unconstitutional.

ACR 5, authored by Assemblyman Dave Stirling (R-64) passed the committee by a vote of 5-0. Under existing California law, first degree murderers previously sentenced to death, whose sentences are reduced to life imprisonment by the Supreme Court decision, are eligible for parole after serving seven years. The resolution would urge the Adult Authority, the governing body for California State Prisoners, to deny parole in all such cases.

Because of the two Supreme Court rulings, 174 men and women have been spared the death penalty. Five of these persons have already been paroled and 13 other convicted murderers have been given parole dates.

"The people of California, through their elected representatives, must declare their public outrage at the prospect that these people, who have committed some of the most violent, horrible murders in the history of California, will even be released back into society," Stirling said.

ACR 5 now goes to the Assembly floor for the consideration of the full Assembly.

NUTRITION LECTURE — Actress Gloria Swanson and her husband, author William Dufty, will speak on nutrition at a luncheon entitled "Younger Than Springtime" 12:30 a.m. May 19 at the Ambassador College Student Center, 169 S. St. John Ave., Pasadena. For tickets call (213) 577-5841.

Tax bill enacted into law

California voters now will be more involved in the spending of tax dollars at the local level.

After two years of negotiations, and two separate pieces of legislation, state Assemblyman Bill Lancaster (R-62) has succeeded in getting a bill enacted into law to allow local governments to propose a tax increase for a specific purpose.

The voters would then decide whether or not they want to pay for a specific program or service.

Previously, if local governments wanted to increase their tax rates, they had to submit the proposal to the voters but they could not specify any particular purpose for the new funds.

"This way," Lancaster said, "people will know exactly what they are voting for. If the tax increase is approved, voters can be assured that the funds will be used only for the stated purpose."

He said the new law gives local residents "a little more voice in the funding of programs and services at the local level."

Lancaster first authored the legislation in 1975. After that bill had been approved by the legislature, it was vetoed by Governor Brown.

This year, Lancaster reintroduced the measure and worked with the governor's staff to eliminate opposition to the bill.

ORDINANCE NO. 1135

URGENCY ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF UPLAND RESTRICTING THE ISSUANCE OF BUILDING PERMITS

The City Council of the City of Upland does hereby ordain as follows: SECTION 1. It is hereby found and determined by the City Council of the City of Upland that as a result of a hearing held by the California Regional Water Quality Control Board of the Santa Ana Region on April 22, 1977, the said Board, in its Order No. 77-122, found that Regional Plant No. 1 receiving the effluent from the City of Upland exceeded the effluent limitations in several respects as set forth more particularly in finding No. 2 of said Order and that any increase in the discharge of waste will increase the violation or likelihood of violation of waste discharge requirements and further unreasonably impair receiving water quality.

That at said hearing the City did commit itself through its authorized representative to require from the Chino Basin Municipal Water District a letter certifying sewage capacity as a prerequisite to the issuance of building permits for the improvement generating said effluent.

It is further found that there are negotiations now proceeding between the entities which are contributing effluent to plant No. 1 allocating gallonage to said plant on a mutually agreeable basis and it appears that this agreement should be effected within a period of one (1) week.

SECTION 2. The Council does hereby direct that no building permits shall be issued by the City of Upland during the period from April 27th to May 2nd of 1977, without a letter from the Chino Basin Municipal Water District certifying available sewage capacity for the effluent to be generated by the improvement to be constructed in pursuance to the building permit issued.

SECTION 3. This ordinance is urgently required and urgently necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety and general welfare. More specifically, without this ordinance there is an immediate danger of issuing building permits which would give rise in the future to effluent flows which could not be treated adequately to satisfy the standards of the Water Quality Control Board. Such flow further is likely to give rise to not only injury, but civil and monetary remedies against the City.

SECTION 4. The Mayor shall sign this ordinance and the City Clerk shall attest to the same and this ordinance shall be effective immediately as an urgency ordinance and the City Clerk shall cause the same to be published within fifteen (15) days after its passage, at least once in the Upland News.

RESOLUTION AND NOTICE OF INTENTION TO SOLICIT PROPOSALS FOR THE OPERATION OF PARK SNACK BARS, BOAT RENTALS AND THE SWIM PARK PAVILION FOOD CONCESSIONS AT FRANK G. BONELLI REGIONAL COUNTY PARK

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, has found that the public interest and welfare will be served by the granting of a concession to a responsible party for operation of a Snack Bar, Boat Rental and Pavilion Concession at Frank G. Bonelli Regional County Park, as shown on Exhibit "A,"

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, as follows:

1. That it is the intention of the County of Los Angeles Facilities Department, on the 1st day of June, 1977, prior to 5:00 p.m., in its office at 550 S. Vermont Ave., 10th Floor, Los Angeles, California 90020, to receive proposals for a concession agreement for the operation of a Snack Bar, Boat Rental, and Pavilion Concession at Frank G. Bonelli Regional County Park. The purpose of this Resolution and Notice of Intention is not to submit formal bids, but to solicit proposals to operate the facilities described above.

2. The term of the concession agreement will be for a period of five (5) years commencing within 30 days of its award by the Board of Supervisors.

3. Selection of the best responsible proposal will be based upon the following criteria:

a) Proposer's experience in operating the facilities as required by County.

b) The quality and nature of the equipment and programs to be provided by the proposer.

c) The percentage of gross revenue and minimum annual rental to be paid to the County.

d) The financial responsibility of the proposer.

4. The concession shall be operated for the rental of powered and non-powered boats and for the sale of bait and tackle, food and miscellaneous concession stand items at Frank G. Bonelli Regional County Park.

5. The County shall provide the premises and equipment as shown on Exhibits "A" and "B" to the sample Concession Agreement provided as part of the proposal package. All additional equipment necessary for the satisfactory operation of the Snack Bar, Boat Rental Concession and all necessary supplies will be furnished by the Concessionaire.

6. Concessionaire and his agents or employees shall at all times comply with and abide by all rules and regulations heretofore adopted or that may hereafter be adopted by the Board of Supervisors of said County and/or Directors of the Facilities Department and the Department of Parks and Recreation.

7. The proposal package will be on file in the offices of the Facilities Department, 550 S. Vermont Ave., 10th Floor, Los Angeles, California 90020, and will be made available to all and all prospective proposers prior to the date set by the Board of Supervisors for the opening of the proposals. The final concession agreement will contain substantially the same provisions as the sample concession agreement. Said proposal form and concession agreement contain in detail all of the terms and conditions pertaining to the operation of the concession and all proposers shall be deemed to have notice, constructive or otherwise, of said terms and conditions.

8. Proposers must satisfy themselves by personal examination of the location of the concession and by such other means as they may prefer as to the conditions and requirements of the operation of the concession.

9. QUALIFICATIONS OF PROPOSERS

1) Must have a minimum of two years' experience within the last ten years in the operation of snack bar and/or bait and tackle services and/or operation of a boat rental facility.

2) Must possess the necessary line of credit to equip and operate the concession.

3) Must possess a competent past record of employment in the food and/or bait and tackle service and/or rental boat business or a related field as verified and supported by references, letters and other necessary evidence from all employers.

4) In the event a corporation is bidding to operate the concession, said corporation must verify that the person employed as manager of the operation shall meet the above-listed qualifications.

5) Each proposer shall furnish the following information with his sealed proposal:

Financial Statement - A full and detailed presentation of proposer's assets, liabilities and net worth.

General Business Statement - A statement of all of the important business activities of proposer's major business life, emphasizing proposer's experience in the operation of food and bait-and-tackle service and the rental boat business. It is most important that this statement be up to the last date of such enterprise.

Business References - A minimum of five (5) business references giving names, addresses and telephone numbers in each instance.

Personal References - A minimum of five (5) personal references giving names, addresses and telephone numbers in each instance.

Credit References - A minimum of five (5) credit or financial references giving names, addresses and telephone numbers in each instance.

Equipment and Inventory - A program of equipment and inventory to be furnished by Concessionaire with the cost of furnishing said program.

Estimated Gross Receipts - An estimate of annual gross receipts and percentage breakdown of all operating costs.

11. The filing of such statements shall constitute permission by the proposer for the County to check, verify and have certified all information contained in such statements. If the County desires, additional information may be requested from the proposer. Failure to comply with any such request may disqualify any proposer from further consideration.

12. Sealed proposals must be filed in the office of the Facilities Department of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, 550 S. Vermont Ave., 10th Floor, Los Angeles, California 90020, prior to 5:00 p.m. on the 1st day of June, 1977. The final acceptance of any proposal may be made at any meeting of the County Board of Supervisors within sixty (60) days after receipt of said proposals as recommended by the Director of Facilities or within such longer period as may be deemed reasonable by said Director.

13. No oral proposals will be considered by the Board of Supervisors. The County reserves the right to negotiate with one or more proposers.

14. The County Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all proposals.

15. Each proposal must be accompanied by a Cashier's Check or a check certified by a responsible bank in the County of Los Angeles and payable to said County in the amount of $2,000 or by a satisfactory surety bond for said amount as a guarantee proposer will execute the Concession Agreement if same is awarded to such proposer. This guarantee will be applied toward, but shall not be considered a limitation upon, any damage which may be sustained by the County if proposer fails to so comply.

The foregoing Resolution was duly and regularly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, on the 3rd day of May, 1977.

JAMES S. MIZE,
Executive Officer-Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County, and ex-officio clerk of the governing body of all other special assessment and taxing districts for which said Board so acts.

If you are, are you aware that the California Business and Professions Code requires you to do the following: 1. File a fictitious business name statement with the county clerk in the county where you have your principal place of business. 2. Have the statement published once a week for four weeks in a newspaper circulating in the area where you are doing business. 3. File a new statement on or before December 31 of the fifth year after the year in which the original statement was filed. The purpose of this statute is to allow the public to know the true identities of those with whom it has business dealings. Filing is also in your best interest since in the event of non-compliance you will be prevented from maintaining any action on an account or contract or with regard to any transaction that you have had while operating under your fictitious name.
